- He will be giving commencement speech on May 24th, and be interviewed by Brad Pomerance about being a student trustee; Air on Charter: California Edition at a later date.

At the student trustee conference last August one of the many things I learned about being a student trustee is that the job goes by really quickly. It has not even been a year yet. I am so glad to have been a trustee this year though. I think it may have been one of the most interesting — if not the most interesting — year to be a trustee due to the show cause status of the school. We would be meeting sometimes twice a month to get things approved.

I would first like to let you know how much of pleasure it was to work and collaborate with you at the table and in the audience. I have gotten to know many of you on a personal level.

I am very happy to have served amongst the board and administrators. I have heard certain stories from fellow student trustees around the state about disarray, lack of communication, and polarization at their boards, but that is not the case here. The board works as one in a very cohesive, efficient, and logical manner. The board does not let personal views impede progress, but instead acts on behalf of the greater good of the SLOCCD.

I would like to thank the faculty and staff at the school for their work on the shared governance committees. The board would not be able to implement the policies that we do if it was not for the constant work of the various shared governance committees on campus. I have been fortunate to serve on some committees and gotten to see just how much discussion and friendly debate goes on and how much close examination goes on before something is brought to the board for us to vote on.

I would also like to thank you for your the rights and privileges you allow the student trustee. I learned that many student trustees do not get certain rights that I do. Many student trustees are not allowed an advisory vote and those that are allowed a vote many times do not get recorded in the minutes. At Cuesta College this is not the case. Cuesta is committed to allowing the student voice and student participation at the highest level, even in closed session. I was the first student trustee in recent years to attend closed session, which was very insightful and I hope my successor will follow suit. As a trustee I tried to do my homework on issues and would always take into account student concerns and vote accordingly.

Serving on the board has truly been such a rare insight into how a college runs and one that few students get to experience. I think serving on the board will be one of the things I miss the most and wish I could continue to serve on the board to see certain things transpire, like further discussion of the possibility of a bond, prop 30 funds, and the hopeful removal of our warning sanction, but I have full confidence in this board. Looking back, I am glad to see all that we did, and I am looking forward to the progress that Cuesta will make for years to come.

Thank you all for this experience.

12. Report from Supt/Pres

Dr. Stork presented the following to the Board:

- He commented on Trustee Knowles' statement; in that what he said and how he said it was the motivation behind implementing the full array of privileges to student trustees. He thanked Trustee Knowles for taking the charge and doing it well.
- During the ground-breaking for the new SESLOC branch in San Luis Obispo, the same student jazz trio that performed at the President's dinner played. Cuesta College also received a $5000.00 check from SESLOC.

She commented on the first-time collaboration between the strategic planning committee and the institutional effectiveness committee to incorporate changes to the report. Each responsible party has written a summary of accomplishments.

She reported that Greg Baxley and Sally Demarest had presented on student learning outcomes at Pierce College on behalf of Cuesta, as a model institution. She reported on the progress made regarding Administrative Procedure AP 4105, Distance Education. It is an important step in meeting Title 5 and accreditation requirements.

2. Sabbatical Leave

Ron McCarley reported on his sabbatical leave awarded for the Fall 2011 and Fall 2012 semesters. The sabbatical allowed Mr. McCarley the opportunity to recommit himself to his music, while also providing the time for him to restructure the curriculum for Cuesta's Jazz Theory program, write a new text for the Jazz Improvisation courses and to create and perform a new series of compositions for recording. To achieve these goals, Ron McCarley began his Fall 2011 studies by visiting music theory programs at several Community Colleges, several CSUs including Northridge, Long Beach, Cal Poly and Fresno and even two colleges in Oregon. The result of these observations was a complete reworking of Cuesta's music theory program, which involved writing three new courses and revising 14 others which was critical for compliance with SB1440. In addition to reworking the theory program, much of his observations were based on small group jazz instruction, which has led to a reworking of Cuesta's jazz combo program. It was implemented in Spring of 2013 and seems to be working very well. In renewing his own musical growth, Ron developed a project with some former students of Brazilian choro music and recorded a CD last October ("Choro de Ouro"). He underwent private study with Daniel Delarossa and Cassandra Tarantino in preparation. He also took a distance education course at SBCC for inspiration and to evaluate the medium of on-line courses. With regard to Jazz Improvisation text, there have been many changes and it remains a work in progress. He presented a copy of "Choro de Ouro" to the Board.

3. 50th Anniversary Report

Shannon Hill, Executive Director, Advancement/Foundation provided an update on the activities and events for the 50th anniversary celebration. She noted the tab insert for the local print media with over 53,000 copies in circulation and the new banners on the San Luis Obispo and North County campuses. She reported that nearly 300 guests attended the President's dinner on April 16th. She commended Terry Reece and all the facilities employees for their outstanding support for the event.

4. Cuesta College Foundation Quarterly Report

Shannon Hill presented the report of the Foundation Board/Staff activity to the Board of Trustees for the period January 1, 2013 through March 31, 2013. She noted that she and Trustee Alexander would be working on a new look for the report.

Q. DISCUSSION*Board Evaluation

1. So meeting agenda items contain sufficient background information and recommendations for the board to make well-informed decisions?

Trustee George – The setup is good. She gave examples that stood out; Matthew Green's presentation on the sustainability center and the one today presenting the District mission statement – clear and easy to understand. She has struggled with others.

Trustee Alexander – Concurred with Trustee George.

Trustee Mitchell – Much better than it used to be, but sometimes information is presented too late for the board to fully digest and evaluate. The more information the better. She suggested closer tracking on the meeting schedule to avoid conflicts.

Discussion took place regarding the scheduling of meetings and the calendar.

ADJOURNMENT

Adjournment The meeting adjourned at 7:02 p.m.
