

Figure 2: Participatory Governance Committee Relationships and Workflow

The diagram below shows the relationships and workflow between participatory governance committees. The structure directs content committee work to a central committee in order to inform and facilitate action and reflective dialogue. In support of the district’s mission and strategic plan, content committee initiatives, mid-year and end-of-year progress reports, and results and analysis of annual assessments are sent to the appropriate central committee for review and feedback.

